President' Corner:

Not only was April snowy but busy too. We kicked off the month with Food For Kidz and ended April with the celebration of the AARP tax program

Thank you to all Day Makers whom participated April 7th in the Food For Kidz day. It was a great success. We were able to meet our goal of bagged food and even do more this year, Way To Go Day Makers!

I attended a dinner celebrating another successful tax Season with the AARP Tax Program. Thank you to all Day Makers who participated in this volunteering opportunity. This program not only services families and individual here, but also in surrounding communities. Many of our own Day Makers have many years of volunteering in this community service program. You make our defining statement of "one child and one community at a time" shine brightly.

May means gearing up for the summer, summer means gearing up for Rochesterfest, Rochesterfest means button sales and Golf Ball Drop ticket sale. The Golf Ball committee is busy putting together all the necessities to kick off the fund raiser by the end of May, so Day Makers put on your best salesperson attire, practice your sales pitches. Help make this fundraiser a successful event. The money from this event stays local. Day Makers make the choice of which community the service project is to receive the monies from this fundraiser. Summer also means the end of the school year.

A Lexophile NY Times Contest:

A "lexophile" is one who has a love of words and word play -- for example, phrases such as "you can tune a piano, but you can't tuna fish", or "To write with a broken pencil is pointless." An annual competition is held by the New York Times to see who can create the best original plays on words. This year's winning submission is posted at the very end.
